Argent Tapware

Argent Tapware

Designer tapware by Argent, a collection that offers a modern interpretation on classic handle shapes and styling, with softness to their form and combining understated elegance and grace tempered with seamless sophistication. Designed to be equally as comfortable in a contemporary designed property as they would be in a more tradition home, each range is unique in character yet common in their approach towards giving you uncompromised performance in the bathroom.

Argent tapware, giving you the ultimate choice with unmatched quality, style and precision.

Minimalist, Art Deco or traditional, Argent's designer tapware range has a unique design to compliment whatever the style of your dream bathroom.

High Quality German engineered ½ turn Ceramic disc head parts, teamed up with solid chrome plated brass construction and a three (3) year manufacturers guarantee means it has never been easier offering peace of mind for both you and the environment.

German head parts with advanced 5 star water saving technology is a cornerstone feature that delivers smooth precise finger tip control over the water mix and advanced temperature control. This technology allows for uncompromising performance through easy turning and comfort control, from which ever Argent style you choose to enjoy.

Assured quality through rigorous testing in a manufacturing and life cycle environment deliver products that you can rely on for your bathroom.

Meticulous attention to quality is evident in what you touch, feel and experience. The chrome finish, mirror like, deep, lustrous, and engaging without flaw is testament to Argent's dedication to quality.

Flite

Flite

Technical Details

Xera

Taking a rumour of traditional cross handle design, Xera flawlessly conveys a stylish geometric appeal that emanates power and fashion. With it's bold strength compelling you to touch and feel, Xera conveys a grandeur not seen since times past – and mates it harmoniously with the minimalism of today's aesthetic.

Evo

Striking through it's simplicity of form, yet uncomplicated and engaging to feel. This combination of form and serenity allow Evo to reduce imagery to the essential while still carrying distinct lines and imparting timeless charm.

Emotional, evocative and refined, yet still able to carry the strong design lines so often chased and rarely found. Evo redefines a sense of style by introducing a profile that is striking to view and to feel.
